

2011-2012 60th-Anniversary Season

The Three Musketeers****

(middle school and high school students)
September 16, 2011, at 11 a.m.

Choreography by André Prokovsky
Music by Giuseppe Verdi, arranged by Guy Woolfenden

Travel back in time to the 17th-century French Court and experience all the swashbuckling excitement of Alexandre Dumas's classic novel.

The Brown-Forman Nutcracker****

(all ages)
December 13-16, 2011, at 11 a.m.

Choreography by Val Caniparoli
Music by P.I. Tchaikovsky

Join Marie and her Nutcracker Prince on a fantastical journey full of adventure and magic!

Cinderella****

(all ages)
March 9, 2012, at 11 a.m.

Choreography by Alun Jones and Helen Starr
Music by Sergei Prokofiev

This timeless tale of a young girl who overcomes adversity to find true love and happiness.

*All main-stage performances are held in the Whitney Hall at The Kentucky Center for the Arts.

Classical/Contemporary: An In-Studio Experience

(middle school and high school students)
January 31 – February 3, 2012, at 11 a.m.

See the Louisville Ballet up close and personal in this special series of in-studio performances that will include both classical and contemporary pieces. Space is limited.

To arrange a field trip, please call (502) 58-DANCE. For more information on the Louisville Ballet's education programs, please contact our Education Department at (502) 583-3150, Ext. 251, or dsmyth@louisvilleballet.org.

The Kentucky Arts Council, the state arts agency, supports the Louisville Ballet with state tax dollars and federal funding from the National Endowment for the Arts.

LOUISVILLE BALLET

BRUCE SIMPSON, ARTISTIC DIRECTOR